INTRODUZIONE

This course offers participants the opportunity to understand the complexity of the human face and to acquire the basics of modelling the individual elements that compose it.

We will study the proportions and differences between faces and try to transfer expressions, emotions and vitality onto them.

The aim will be to give voice to inner psychological states in order to visually create narrative nuances.

Victor Fotso Nyie will accompany participants along this path, sharing with them his particular working method, which involves sculpting a block of clay that is then cut, emptied and reassembled while maintaining a thickness of 1-2 cm.
